One Quart of Liquid KOAL. Makes a Barrel of Medicine or Lice Killer.

The process of making Liquid Koal requires three days. The process of reduction requires 350 degrees of heat. The compound embraces every germicide, antiseptic and disinfectant found in coal, treated chemically with an alkaline base until every objectionable feature is eliminated, being non-poisonous and harmless.

Hog Cholera

is a free germ disease, the germ being first found in the alimentary canal and so long as it is confined in that organ it is comparatively harmless. When, however it penetrates the lungs, liver and other organs it causes fermentation, inflammation and destruction of live tissues, furnishing food upon which it thrives and multiplies with wonderful rapidity, in some cases a generation of an hour, causing death to the animal before the owner has discovered that it was diseased.

Thus through reasoning two facts stand out clearly: First, that Hog Cholera cannot be treated successfully unless treatment has commenced before the germ has reached the period of rapid multiplication. Second, that a germicide must be administered, and therein lies the whole secret. As we pass down the list of various germicides, we are compelled one by one, to reject them, either because of inefficiency or inadmissibility until we reach LIQUID KOAL. And why choose LIQUID KOAL? Because it is the only known germicide that will pass through the stomach into the intestines, and from there into the blood, permeating the entire system, and still retain its germicide properties. It is a compound embracing every practical germicide, antiseptic disinfectant property found in coal, treated chemically with an alkaline base, until every objectionable feature is eliminated, being non-poisonous and harmless to animal economy. It contains cresol and quaiel. It is these hydro-carbon compounds found in smoke that cures a ham, destroying by its germicidal properties all germ life.

Liquid Koal as a Lice Killer

When diluted with water in the proportions of one part of Liquid Koal to fifty parts water it is the best lice killer on the market. It is not expensive to use because it forms a perfect emulsion with water when mixed in this proportion.

Worms in Hogs

The hog is more affected with intestinal worms than any other domestic animal. These worms are created by impure accumulations along the intestinal tract and generally produced by poorly digested food.

The nature of the hog and his manner of eating make him more susceptible to intestinal worms than any other animal. Under the present domesticated conditions he is not allowed the use of his natural instincts to obtain the necessary elements that would destroy these intestinal parasites. Being shut up in a pen, he is not allowed to follow the dictates of his nature. The hog that is wormy can neither grow nor thrive for the reason that the worms destroy all the nutrition furnished in the food. Liquid Koal put in the drinking water in the proportion of one quart to a barrel and given them twice a week will destroy all intestinal worms and keep them free from their formation and multiplication. It strengthens the appetite and tones up the system.

Deimont, December 17, 1902. I have used Liquid Koal for hog cholera and found it all you claim for it and more too. I used it on one that was sick, so sick it could not get up, and the next day it was eating and drinking again. I have never lost a hog since I commenced using it. EMANUEL HOHN.

Wausa, Nebraska, December 16, 1902. I have used Liquid Koal for nearly a year and find it an excellent article to keep hogs in a healthy condition, and as an appetizer it has no equal. ALBERT ANDERSON.

Hartington, Nebr, December 10, 1902. DEAR SIR:—I am a user of Liquid Koal and am well pleased with it, would not try to do without it. I find it useful in a great many ways. I have had no sick hogs since I commenced using it a year ago. In my opinion it is the best and cheapest hog cholera preventative on the market today. You can use this as you wish. Anyone wishing to know more about this please write to me. ENOCH ELY.
